General Marking Guidance

- All candidates must receive the same treatment. Examiners must mark the first candidate in exactly the same way as they mark the last.
- Mark schemes should be applied positively. Candidates must be rewarded for what they have shown they can do rather than penalised for omissions.
- Examiners should mark according to the mark scheme not according to their perception of where the grade boundaries may lie.
- There is no ceiling on achievement. All marks on the mark scheme should be used appropriately.
- All the marks on the mark scheme are designed to be awarded. Examiners should always award full marks if deserved, i.e. if the answer matches the mark scheme. Examiners should also be prepared to award zero marks if the candidate's response is not worthy of credit according to the mark scheme.
- Where some judgement is required, mark schemes will provide the principles by which marks will be awarded and exemplification may be limited.
- When examiners are in doubt regarding the application of the mark scheme to a candidate's response, the team leader must be consulted.
- Crossed out work should be marked UNLESS the candidate has replaced it with an alternative response.

AO1 (1), AO2 (1), AO3 (5), AO4 (5)

Positive points in favour of the partnership

- The partnership will offer both software and hardware solutions to customers
- Paul has an established business which is generating high profits/goodwill
- Extra expertise will be available to Raj and to customers
- Greater management resource available to allowing holiday and sickness cover.
- Raj and Paul can exercise their specialist skills.
- Both partners are in complimentary businesses.
- Increases the capital therefore enabling expansion to take place.

Negative points for the partnership

- Raj loses a third of his capital buying a proportion of Paul's goodwill
- Raj cannot make decisions alone, both partners must agree
- Joint and several liability for actions

Decision

Candidates may conclude that formation of the partnership is positive or negative. Candidates should support that decision with an appropriate rationale.

Level	Mark	Descriptor
	0	A completely incorrect response.
Level 1	1-3	Isolated elements of knowledge and understanding recall based. Weak or no relevant application to the scenario set. Generic assertions may be present.
Level 2	4 - 6	Elements of knowledge and understanding, which are applied to the scenario. Chains of reasoning are present, but may be incomplete or invalid. A generic or superficial assessment is present.
Level 3	7 - 9	Accurate and thorough understanding, supported throughout by relevant application to the scenario. Some analytical perspectives are present, with developed chains of reasoning, showing causes and/or effects. An attempt at an assessment is presented, using financial and non-financial information, in an appropriate format and communicates reasoned explanations
Level 4	10 - 12	Accurate and thorough knowledge and understanding, supported throughout by relevant and effective application to the scenario. A coherent and logical chain of reasoning, showing causes and effects. Assessment is balanced, wide ranging and well contextualised using financial and non-financial information and makes informed recommendations and decisions.

AO1:(4):AO2(4)AO1: Four marks for explaining concepts*AO2: Four marks for applying to current assets

- (i) Consistency
 There are some areas of accounting where a choice of method is available.
 The method chosen (1)AO1 must be consistently used from one period to another.
(1)AO1
- This can most commonly be seen in current assets with inventory valuation (1)AO2
 Where most commonly FIFO or LIFO must be consistently used from period to period.
(1)AO2
- (ii) Prudence
 Ensure that profits and assets are not overstated (1)AO1 and that liabilities are not understated. (1)AO1
- This is most commonly used in current assets with trade receivable valuation. (1)AO2
 Where this is valued after deducting an amount for possible non-payment for irrecoverable debts. (1)AO2

(8)

(h)

AO1 (1), AO2 (1), AO3 (5), AO4 (5)

Positive points in favour of the concepts and conventions

Provides a common framework/yardstick applied by all businesses

Comparison can be drawn between business, periods and countries

Reliance on the information

Ensures trust from the 'stakeholders' that the statements can be relied upon.

Statements are more understandable by the reader.

Concepts and conventions are the result of past experience and best practice.

Gives a true and fair view.

Negative points for the concepts and conventions

Required skilled staff to implement.

Staff need to be trained and this is costly.

The application of some concepts can be contradictory.

Does not include non-financial factors.

Decision

Candidates may conclude that concepts and conventions are positive or negative. Candidates should support that decision with an appropriate rationale.

NOT

Discussions about errors.

Discussions of individual concepts.

(c)

AO2 (1), AO3 (2), AO4 (3)

Positive points for Natalie using ICT

Records of inventory, income, expenditure and trade payables can be kept for scrutiny.

Software keeps an audit trail.

Information will be available to aid management e.g inventory levels

Regular reports will be available e.g profit statement

Less storage of documents-paperless office is more sustainable.

Security of information

Negative points for Natalie using ICT

Cost of equipment and software can be high

Training to use the software will take time away from running the business

Regular software updates will require time to re-train.

Natalie's business might not be big enough to justify the expenditure.

Viruses could remove data and hackers could gain access to data.

Decision

Candidates may conclude that the use of ICT should be implemented or not implemented.

Candidates should support that decision with an appropriate rationale.

(c)

AO2 (1), AO3 (2), AO4 (3)Own figure rule applies

Positive points for liquidity

The inventory has been controlled even though revenue has increased by 25%

Liquid (acid test) ratio although deteriorating is still acceptable within the range 0.7 -1.0:1

Payment of trade payables has improved and they are now being paid within one month.

It could be argued that liquidity was too high in 2018, restricting profitability.

Negative points for liquidity

The liquidity is deteriorating.

The current ratio at 1.33:1 is below the 'yardstick' of 1.4 – 2:1

Payments from trade receivables has slowed significantly showing a weakness in credit control.

The bank is now overdrawn and further payments may be restricted by the bank.

Decision

Candidates may conclude that Alex has a good or bad liquidity position. Candidates should support that decision with an appropriate rationale.

(b) AO1:(4)AO1: Four marks for explaining the entries

The closing inventory of finished goods at 31 December 2019 contains £60 000 (1)AO1 of unrealised profit. The existing balance of the provision for unrealised profit is £70 000, (1)AO1

therefore the difference of £10 000 (1of)AO1 must be DEBITED (1)AO1 to the provision for unrealised profit account using the narrative income statement, which will be balanced and brought down.

Positive points for group bonus

- Workers may work harder and output may increase.
- The scheme will reward extra effort.
- Unit costs may decrease.
- The bonus will be paid only when production figures is high.

Negative points for group bonus

- Quality of output may be compromised.
- Accidents may increase as workers work quicker.
- Worker disagreements between those workers who wish to work faster and those who do not.

Decision

Candidates may conclude that the use of a group bonus scheme should be implemented or not implemented. Candidates should support that decision with an appropriate rationale.

Level	Mark	Descriptor
	0	A completely incorrect response.
Level 1	1-2	Isolated elements of knowledge and understanding which are recall based. Generic assertions may be present. Weak or no relevant application to the scenario set.
Level 2	3-4	Elements of knowledge and understanding, which are applied to the scenario. Some analysis is present, with developed chains of reasoning, showing causes and/or effects applied to the scenario, although these may be incomplete or invalid. An attempt at an evaluation is presented, using financial and perhaps non-financial information, with a decision.
Level 3	5-6	Accurate and thorough knowledge and understanding. Application to the scenario is relevant and effective. A coherent and logical chain of reasoning, showing causes and effects is present. Evaluation is balanced and wide ranging, using financial and perhaps non-financial information and an appropriate decision is made.

AO1:(4)AO1: Four marks for explaining concepts

Historic cost concept Inventory should be recorded at cost (1)AO1 at time of purchase / not at its market value (1)AO1

Net realizable value Where realizable value is less than cost, the estimated selling price (1)AO1 less any further costs before the goods are suitable for sale. (1)AO1

Positive points for strategy

Printers offered at competitive prices to customers.

Customers buy printer cheaply and then are 'tied into' buying ink cartridges.

Generates repeat business.

A very good gross profit margin achieved on ink cartridges.

Negative points for strategy

A 6.25% gross margin for printers is very low and when expenses are considered the sale of printers will probably be making a net loss.

If customers find a more competitive price for ink cartridges the strategy will fail.

Decision

Candidates may conclude that the current strategy is sound or not sound. Candidates should support that decision with an appropriate rationale.
